This innovative workbook is indispensable if you have not yet been able to find the true love your heart desires. It leads you step-by-step through a simple, heart-opening process that can completely change the way you look for love.

- ◆ Does it seem like you are always attracting exactly what you don't want in relationships?
- ◆ Learn how new physics and the Law of Attraction can hinder your search for true love or can become your greatest tool to create the relationship of your dreams.
- ◆ Simply answer three questions about people you have known before to create a blueprint for the Universe to bring you exactly what you want.

Excerpts from the workbook:

"I had a history of attracting exactly what I didn't want. Maybe you do, too. I didn't know what I actually did want. Maybe you don't either...If you don't know for sure what you do want, how can the Universe ever bring it to you? If you persist in focusing on what you don't want and don't have, the Universe will continue to make that your reality."

"This workbook will guide you step by step through a delightful process of remembering what you already love. By the time you finish this workbook, you will have a clear vision of your true love, the love that you already have in your heart. And when the Universe perceives that in you, it will match your outer reality to it."

This workbook will take you through an enlightening process so that you can tell the Universe exactly what you want, and get it!
